

Upland Angler Lodge
Missouri River, Montana
3 Days Fishing/4 Nights Lodging

Arrive Sunday July 8
Depart Thursday July 12

Jim Isaacson is the Fishmaster proposing this Fishout. It is important to commit and reserve at the Upland Angler Lodge ASAP as the Lodge is not booked during this period (eight rooms – eight singles and up to sixteen people if all rooms were double occupancy). While having just one group in the facility would be good, having a smaller group and meeting other fly fishers would be interesting. The main objective in getting reservations in ASAP is securing the best guides. My main role and goal is having the good guides, planning a rotation of guides amongst our group (if that is what the group wants) and making sure Upland Angler Lodge treats us well. If Flycasters have preferred guides I will try to have them included in the arrangements with Upland Angler Lodge. Flexibility in arrangements should be an advantage in working with Upland Angler Lodge.

Jim and Val Isaacson stayed at Upland Angler Lodge at the end of July, 2017. The Lodge had opened earlier in 2017. Accommodations, food, and staff all exceeded our expectations. We have fished with the head guide/outfitter, Dan Troupe, many times and also with four of his associate guides. The flexibility of the waters that can be fished is what may attract many fly fishers. The many sections of the Missouri are close by and other rivers (the Blackfoot, the Big Hole, etc.) can all be reached with a reasonable drive. If you drive to Montana like us, you can add days while going into and out of Montana to fish the Madison and Yellowstone like we did in 2017.

Fish: Rainbows, Browns, and Whitefish

Fishing strategy: Dry flies, hoppers, nymphs, and dry with dropper are all effective;
Though the Missouri River is known for being one of the most prolific dry fly fisheries in the world.

April/May - Big Browns love streamers, while the dry fly enthusiast will likely try their hand at midges and blue winged olives

June - Water levels vary, and nymphing tight to the bank can be rewarding. Hatches include midges, blue wing olives, beaties, and caddis

July - Shorts, sandals, Caddis, and PMD. Dry Fly at its best.

August - Tricos and Hoppers. HOPPERS!!

September/October - Variety of patterns working; tricos, caddis, hoppers, beaties. Lots of top water action in September with the bigger Blue Winged Olives coming off in October. Though nymphing may outperform in September.

Suggested Equipment: Rod Wt(s). 5-6
Line Floating
Leader 9-12'
Tippet. 4-5x

Other: Waders/Wade boots; be prepared to layer; weather swings can be extreme throughout the year. Best to be prepared, than not. July and August tend to be warm, but cold spells can occur in both months

Suggested Flies: Guides have a complete selection of flies, but feel free to bring any favorites

Meals provided: Meals begin on the evening of arrival and will end on the morning of your departure.
